LAST DAY BUSY ONE

Wheels of District Government Run Undisturbed.

MUCH WORK FOR NEW MEN

Curfew Law, Loan Shark Bill, and Health Measures on Docket for Early Attention—Long Official Life of Commissioners Macfarland and West Marked Off with Changes.

Notwithstanding that yesterday was the last day of the official life of Commissioners West and Macfarland, there was no interruption of public business. Both Commissioners were in their offices as usual.

Commissioners West and Macfarland will retire to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock, when Cuno H. Rudolph and Gen. Johnston will take the oath. Following that formality a reception and leave-taking will be tendered the retiring Commissioners by heads of departments and the employees of the District government.

It is the general opinion that Commissioner Rudolph will have all of the departments now under control of Commissioner West, with the exception of police. This arrangement would leave in Commissioner Rudolph's hands all matters pertaining to assessment and collection of taxes, disbursements, and similar matters.

Mr. Macfarland's Official Life. Commissioner Macfarland was appointed May 9, 1900, to succeed John B. Wright. He was reappointed twice thereafter, his last appointment of three years having expired May 9, 1909. At the request of President Taft he continued in office until such time as the President should determine upon his successor. On November 13, 1909, Commissioner Macfarland filed his resignation, to take effect December 1. Upon the request of President Taft, he postponed giving up the office to January 1, and a later request of the President forced him to continue in office to the present time. He has served nine years and seven months.

Commissioner West was appointed October 16, 1902, to succeed John W. Ross, who died July 23, 1902. He has served two full terms of three years each and was on his third term, having been reappointed Commissioner by President Roosevelt. On November 12, 1909, he tendered his resignation to President Taft, asking to be relieved not later than December 1. The President requested him to hold over until January 1, when his successor would be named, and later asked him to remain in office until his successor had been sworn into office.

Work for New Commissioners. Unfinished business coming before the new Commissioners will include the curfew law, the loan shark bill, the bill to change the probation system, a bill for the appointment of two instead of one cadet to West Point; legislation to clothe the Commissioners with powers to regulate public utilities, health measures regulating the sale of milk, nonsupport of wives and children, licensing of moving picture operators, reclamation of the Anacostia flats, licensing of river boats to sell liquors, the bill to fix the Commissioners' salaries at $1,500, the same as that of Congressmen; license tax on circus, Engineer Commissioner Judson's bill to regulate building construction, extension of streets, extension of Rock Creek Park, and other important matters.

MONUMENT FOR SAILORS.

Memorial Association to Raise Fund for Its Erection.

Plans are being made to raise funds for the purpose of erecting a monument in this city in honor of the men who lost their lives on the battle ship Maine.

The Maine Memorial Association, organized last March at the home of Rear Admiral Sigbee, has the work in charge. It is believed that the best method for raising the money is to admit the public into the association. The fee will be $1. Each member will receive the badge and certificate of membership.

The association has its headquarters in the Evans Building. The officers are: President, Rear Admiral Sigbee; vice presidents, Hon. Le Gage Pratt, Gen. Andrew S. Bunt, L. N. Dolph, U. S. W. V.; treasurer, Maj. Lewis Merriam; secretary, C. W. Dunlop.

LOCAL BAKERS ELECT OFFICERS

It is such messages as these from friends and supporters that give encouragement to the committee, which has accepted voluntarily the responsibility for raising the funds to carry on the work in behalf of families in distress.
